PARTY PRINCIPLES?

ATTENTION CALLED TO FACTS

Babcock Says We Need Republican
Congressmen—La Follette Says,
Defeat Them.

To the Editor:
I beg leave to call your attention to the following statement of the chairman of the national congressional campaign. In it he states that the fight for republican congressmen in the next congress will be sharp. They will need every congressman possible. I would also call attention to the articles which appear daily in the Milwaukee organ of the administration, which loudly proclaim the victory for the democratic congressmen in Wisconsin in districts where the governor is using his personal spite to defeat the men who will not bow to his will. If any man can stoop to defeat the national politics of the party he is supposed to represent and organize clubs called Roosevelt and La Follette clubs and still try to defeat republican congressmen for reelection for petty spites, I would like to know what the word consistency means. It shows on the face that Roosevelt and the republican party are nothing but a stopping stone to personal ambition. The article I refer to is as follows:
"There is no use trying to paint black white; we have a great big fight on our hands, and only the hardest kind of work will save us the house," said Representative Babcock of Wisconsin, chairman of the republican congressional campaign committee, today. "We are not fighting old general apathy, and it does not require much figuring to show just where we are. Not since 1888 have the republicans found conditions so unfavorable for the congressional tickets as this year."

Doubt As to House
"Usually we can count on saving the house by the strength of the national ticket. There is no doubt in my mind that President Roosevelt will be elected, but his great popularity and strength may not be sufficient to keep the republicans in charge of the house organization."
"In case of four different congressional districts we have two republican candidates, and this division in strength of the democratic candidates. Out in Nebraska our opposition has fused on the congressional ticket, and we are likely to lose some districts. In Indiana we have several real contests, and I am not at all satisfied with the situation there. Hodgeberg down in the East St. Louis district and Smith down in Egypt and Lorimer up in Chicago may be defeated. We are more likely to lose than gain strength in Illinois."

Prospect of Losses
"New Jersey will give Roosevelt 20,000 nevertheless we will probably lose three republican congressmen there. This is not all our trouble. The democrats will gain a district in Pennsylvania, and I could go more into detail to prove that we have the greatest fight on in years to save the house and keep 'Uncle Joe' in the speaker's chair."

"I am not dependent of success, but if we win it will be by a small majority unless the unforeseen happens, and there is a great landslide or a marked change in sentiment before election day."

A REPUBLICAN.
"SAN TOY NOTES."

There is no busier office in New York these days than that of John C. Fisher, proprietor of "San Toy" and "The Silver," and also a partner in "Guttering Gloria," "Flordora," "The Medal and the Maid," and other big productions. The proverbial "busy bee" is beat a city block on the question of industry by the example which Mr. Fisher sets and which his staff of two dozen assistants try to follow. In the case of the famous "bee" he has never been accused of doing much except in the "singing hours," but at Mr. Fisher's headquarters he can be found whether or not the orb of day is shining, shielded from view by an overcast sky, or chances to be well on its way to the land where the scenes of "San Toy" are laid.

When the routing of "San Toy" was completed a few weeks ago it was discovered that 23 weeks of the time given over to the tour would be spent in territory here the delightful Chinese musical play has not hitherto been seen. Needless to say when this fact dawned on Mr. John C. Fisher, who will present "San Toy" in this city by special arrangement with the Augustin Daily estate, the slight question of doubt that he have previously been felt over the outcome of the tour vanished, for "San Toy" has always been a whirlwind success on its first visit and perhaps the best attraction to repeat in the musical line.

INJURED TRAINMEN WILL ALL RECOVER

Men Hurt in the Wreck at Bardwell
Last Evening, All Getting Along Nicely.

To prevent a collision between a southbound freight train on the Janesville & Southeastern and a westbound train on the Racine & Southeastern branches of the St. Paul road at Bardwell last evening, the southbound train was thrown from the track by the operator in the interlocking tower. The locomotive remained on the track but the cars were driven upon it with terrific force and piled in a heap of hopeless wreckage. Charles E. Mills of Milwaukee, the engineer, received a stunning blow on the back of the neck; W. S. Babcock, the fireman, was cut about the limbs and head; and H. Woodward, brakeman, sustained injuries to the head and face and had his arms and legs badly bruised. The accident occurred before eleven o'clock and shortly before midnight the men were hurried to Janesville on a special car.

Drs. Pennington and Fiffeld, Officers Brown and Fanning, and a small contingent of people who had heard of the accident met the special at the depot. The engineer was unconscious when taken from the train, and the fireman was also regarded as in a very critical condition, but the authorities of the Palmer hospital stated at nine o'clock this morning that the engineer's mind was clearing, though he had occasional lapses into unconsciousness, and that his condition was regarded as quite favorable. The fireman and the brakeman had sustained nothing worse than some bad bruises and cuts and a severe shaking up. No bones were broken in any of the three cases.

The men left Janesville with the train bound for Chicago. At Bardwell, seventeen miles southeast of here, they claim to have received from the operator the signal to go ahead. They had started to do so, and were under good headway when they suddenly discovered a westbound freight on the line & Southeastern was taking the crossing, directly ahead of them. Before they could set the brakes the operator threw the derail from the interlocking tower. Brakeman Woodward was on top of the fourth car from the engine when the spreader was thrown and says that he found himself over in a field when he recovered consciousness.

VOTING DISTRICTS REDUCED TO FIVE

Inspectors and Clerks for Election on November 1, Will Be Appointed on Monday Next.

The city council, minus Aldermen Matheson, Jackson, Schmidley, and Schwartz, convened in special session at the call of Mayor Hutchinson last evening to reduce the nine election districts to five in order to make way for the new voting machines. The boundaries of each ward were decided upon as the boundaries of each election district, hereafter, and the polling places will be as follows:

1st ward—The street commissioner's office in the northeast corner of the basement of the city hall.
2d ward—The booth at the north-west corner of Fourth avenue and North Main street.
3d ward—The booth on Racine street, east of and near South Main.
4th ward—The shop at No. 53 South Academy street.
5th ward—The booth on Holmes street, east of and near Center avenue.

The inspectors and clerks for the election of November 1 will be appointed at the regular meeting of the council next Monday evening. Reports on Pine street from Galena to Western avenue, on Gold street from Galena to Western avenue, and on Clarion street from Center to Pine were ordered. By an order the curb line on "Pine" street was established at a distance of fifteen feet on each side of the center line of that thoroughfare.

SOME HAIL HAS WRECKED FIELDS

Tobacco Crop Not as Prosperous as It Might Be in the United States.

A certain amount of damage has been done by hail, but the loss has been nothing like that in New England. Lack of moisture is still the general complaint. A few local rains have fallen, offering temporary relief, but very much more is needed. As a consequence the crop is not advancing as fast as might be desired, and the situation is far from encouraging. The first sales of the new crop are reported, but it is not thought that there will be much buying in the field this year owing to the disastrous experiences of last year. The prices ranged around 10 cents for wrapper and binder grades for bundle delivery, which is hardly sufficient to attract the farmers. In cured leaf there has been practically no movement. Shipments out of storage from Edgerton for the week amounted to about 200 cases.

Ohio.
On the whole the outlook for the growing crop is favorable, though there is said to be some irregularity, and in certain districts the leaf is too dry. The acreage of Zimmer shows a decrease but that of Little Dutch and seed an increase. Some buying is proceeding, though there is a considerable portion of the Zimmer yet in the farmers' sheds which they would be glad to get rid of before the new crop comes in. Prices are ranging from 4 and 2 cents to 9 straight.

New England.
In spite of the damage done by the recent storms, reports from the tobacco growing districts are markedly optimistic. The loss, it is true, was heavy, but, fortunately, the area visited was small. The weather has been ideal and there has been practically no damage from worms or grasshoppers. The acreage is estimated as slightly less than last year, but it is generally believed that the yield will be greater per acre. The plants are described as unusually large, broad and well set. Cutting is just beginning and the opinion is general that the crop will go into sheds in better condition than for many years.

New York.
A little buying of the 1903 crop is still going on. As regards the new crop, all is ideally favorable. Many of the growers are now top-pink, and with a few weeks of weather like what we have been enjoying, the best crop grown in several years in this state should be harvested. A few crops are being cut but the majority are not yet ripe enough.

News for the Railroad Men.

E. H. Harriman and George J. Gould have formed a friendly alliance, which will have practically the same effect on the railroad situation west of the Mississippi river that the Vanderbilt-Pennsylvania railroad alliance has exercised for the past five years in the eastern trunk line territory. This alliance is in the form of a definite personal agreement to preserve harmony between the Harriman and Gould lines, to maintain stable rates so far as their influence extends and to conduct no aggressive operations in each other's territory.

HARRY LEON WILSON
Author of "The Seeker"

Harry Leon Wilson, the author of "The Seeker," has had a varied and interesting career. He was born in Oregon, Illinois, one hundred miles from Chicago. His father was a country editor, and the boy almost grew up in a printing-office. While attending school, he became an expert compositor. He inked the hand-press while his father ran off the weekly edition. At seventeen, he left school, and became a stenographer for the Union Pacific railway at Omaha. Subsequently, he went to California to gather material for an American history. He also worked as court reporter. In 1887, after he returned to the service of the Union Pacific, he began to contribute to "Puck." In 1892, he became associated with the famous H. C. Munroe on the editorial staff of Puck, and on Munroe's death became editor, conducting that well-known periodical with success. He resigned in 1902, to devote his time to writing books. "The Seekers" was his first book and a complete success.

Mr. Wilson has a summer home in New Hampshire and a winter home in the Ozarks, forty miles from the railroad. He has a striking personality, but a retiring disposition. He has displayed more variety in the character of his books than any contemporary American author. Asked the other day why he had written "The Seeker," Mr. Wilson said: "The story told itself to me and interested me. It seemed to be one phase of the larger story that underlies the dry facts of our social evolution."

Erle railroad from Chicago to New York, and Gould has the Watoh, which now extends from Kansas City and St. Louis to Pittsburgh, and is on its way to the Atlantic coast.

With Harriman and Gould working for railroad harmony in the far west, and Vanderbilt and Cassatt still maintaining railroad harmony in the east, these two powerful elements of harmony will meet in the Mississippi valley and agree to co-operate.

The live stock traffic of western roads last week was the heaviest of any week in the past four months. The total receipts were 233,712 head, an increase of 54,533 head over the previous week and a decrease of only 2,530 head over the corresponding week of last year. These figures indicate that the packers are now operating nearly on a normal basis.

There was a general increase in the traffic of western railroads last week and prospects are good. The total amount of grain brought to Chicago during the week was 5,603,000 bushels, an increase of 398,000 bushels over the previous week and of 1,310,000 bushels over the corresponding week of last year. The receipts of corn increased last week over the previous week, 587,000 bushels, much more than offsetting the decrease of 101,000 bushels in wheat receipts and of 200,000 bushels in corn receipts.

The eastern railroads also made good gains in traffic last week. A feature was the increase in shipment of general merchandise from the east. Eastbound shipments of grain last week, however, were 588,000 bushels, a decrease of 532,000 bushels from the previous week but an increase of 125,000 bushels over the corresponding week of last year. Flour shipments eastbound last week were 60,831 barrels, an increase of 500 barrels over the week of 800 barrels over the same week of last year.

The general rate situation is fair, except the cut rate on wire and nails to Colorado made for the United States Steel corporation by the Harriman system, and the corresponding reductions in rates eastbound from Colorado made by the Gould system to protect the Colorado Fuel & Iron company.

After more than a year of labor the state tax commission of Wisconsin has arrived at a preliminary estimate of the value of all railroad property in the state. It includes the physical property as well as the franchises of the companies. On the average value of stocks and bonds for five years the commission estimated the valuation of railroad property in 1902 at $217,854,026. By capitalizing the income from operation from 1892 to 1902 the valuation was found to be $220,341,250. Having devoted a year to the most painstaking investigation, during which they appraised all of the physical property of the roads, they now assess the holdings of the companies at $221,431,400.

The point to be determined now is the rate of taxation to be assessed against this valuation. If the amount determined by the commission is the full value of the railroad property, the rate assessed against that property must be the rate which the taxes paid on general property bear to the full value of such property. The average rate of taxation of the general property of the state last year was .0117736.

MAKE ANSWER TO THE WRIT ASKED

GOVERNOR'S ATTORNEYS DENY
EVERYTHING IN TOTO.

THE ROYAL AUTO IS READY

Bonding Company Refuse to Increase the Bonds of State Treasurer
Kempf.

Denial is toto. There are not two factions of the republican party. The national convention did not have the authority to act upon the rights of delegates. The supreme court has no power to act. The old La Follette, under control state central committee, which died a natural, and not regretted death, at the time of the republican convention in Madison, has the only power to act and decide which is the republican ticket of Wisconsin. These are the salient points of the answer filed late yesterday afternoon by the attorney for the administration before the supreme court. It is a lengthy document that merely reviews the contented facts which the voters of this state are so familiar with. The document is filed in the name of Secretary of State Houser, against whom the writ was asked by Attorneys Olin and Greene. The case will be heard on September 6. The meeting of the old state central committee meets September 12th.

Auto Is Ready

Governor La Follette's private automobile accompanied by Col. Hannan as a guard of honor and in charge of John Haber, the official state chauffeur, will arrive in Madison this evening. After being properly inspected by the corps of game wardens, ward hunters and others interested in its purchase it will be carefully groomed and trained for the arduous work of the coming campaign. When not in use by the governor it will be loaned to ambitious spellbinders who will seek to impress the country people they are teaching the truths and nothing but the truths by contorting facts and preaching against the great monopolies that give work to thousands and bread and butter to millions. God's patient poor are to have their taste of campaigning this fall and to the game warden, oil inspector and factory inspector of the governor's machine it will be a time of plenty and rejoicing no matter what the harvest is.

No Bonds

State Treasurer Kempf will not get an increased bond, as demanded by Governor La Follette, and he will be removed by the governor unless he gets service on the executive in a suit to prevent removal before the governor acts. Governor La Follette gave Kempf until tomorrow to get the increased bonds. Today it was announced that the new bond of $350,000 would be granted by the National Surety company. T. J. Tapping, the company's agent, admitted that the company would go on the bond, and said as soon as he and Mr. Kempf got together the bond would be signed. A few hours later Mr. Tapping received orders from the company not to give the bond under any circumstances.

Gives Adverse Report

The cause for this change is said to be that Judge Noyes, counsel of the bonding company, reported that in his opinion if the company went on the new bond it would be liable not only during the remainder of Mr. Kempf's term, but for the time already passed. With this advice in hand the company promptly stopped proceedings.

The papers in a suit brought by Mr. Kempf to restrict the governor from removing him from office have been prepared and an attempt will be made to serve them tomorrow morning before he takes any action looking toward vacating the office of state treasurer. If service is obtained Kempf and his friends believe court proceedings will prevent his removal until his term expires next January.

AMONG THE WORLD'S WORKERS

News Notes From Various Sources of Great Interest to the Workman.

It is stated that electricity will soon displace the mule as a motive power in the middle state coal mines.

It is agreed by the Board of Conciliation that the entire question of check weighmen and check dockling bosses be submitted to Judge Gray, giving him full power to interpret award No. 5, and to direct both miners and operators what they are required to do to carry out all provisions of said award, as intended by the Anthracite Strike Commission.

The convention of the International Typographical Union held in St. Louis yesterday concurred in the report of a committee which advocated the adoption of an eight-hour law, and fixed January 1, 1906, as the time when such a law should be effective, or a strike be declared. The question is left to the subordinate lodges for final decision on a referendum vote.

The crisis is on in the struggle between Joseph Leiter and the United Mine Workers of America. From an official source it is learned that there are barely sufficient men in Ziegler to operate the plant. Hired body guards, deputy sheriffs and United States marshals to the number of eighty-nine keep a close guard on the 150 workmen who are within the Ziegler stockade.

WASHING WITHOUT WATER

Is Like Trying to Get Rid of Dandruff Without Herpicide.

Did you ever see any one trying to wash themselves without soap or water?

If you did what would you say of him?

It is every bit as foolish to try to get rid of Dandruff and to prevent Baldness by feeding the germs which cause it, with Cantharides, Vasoline, Glycerine and similar substances which form the principal ingredients of most so-called Hair Vigors.

Newbro's Herpicide is successful because it attacks and kills the parasitic germ which feeds on the hair roots.

It is the original and only genuine scalp germicide manufactured.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

VERDICT OF THE PARTY

From the report of the Committee on Credentials to the REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION, which was unanimously adopted by the convention, June 23, 1904.

Your committee report it to be their final judgment that the convention which elected John C. Spooner, J. V. Quarles, J. W. Babcock and Emil Buessch as delegates at large, and their alternates at large, to this convention from the state of Wisconsin was the regular convention of the REPUBLICAN PARTY IN WISCONSIN, and that the delegates elected by it are the regular elected delegates at large from the state of Wisconsin to the republican convention, and, as such, are entitled to seats in this convention.

"ORGANIZED INCAPACITY"

President Roosevelt as a candidate is fortunate not only in possessing an attractive personality which wins for him the enthusiastic support of multitudes and in having behind him a united and powerful party organization, but also in the ability of his principal spokesmen.

The speech of Ellin Root as temporary chairman of the republican national convention is rightfully regarded as one of the ablest political addresses made in this country in years, and as a defense of the republican party and of the administration of President Roosevelt it has already become a text-book for republican orators and writers. Yesterday, Secretary of War Taft delivered, at Montpelier, Vermont, an address which ranks fully up to the standard set by Mr. Root. It would be difficult to praise Mr. Taft's speech too highly. He has already attained a high reputation as a jurist and as an executive officer in the Philippines, and his address should establish his reputation as a political orator of the highest rank. It is felicitous in every sentence, and presents the strongest argument that could possibly be constructed in favor of the republican policies and the republican candidates. We do not propose to review this speech in detail, for it is so long and contains so much that is suggestive that it is impossible to review it adequately in one article.

There is one phrase in the speech, however, which is so strong and so apt that it is likely to be used over and over again during the campaign. It is the phrase which we have put at the head of this article, "Organized incapacity." Mr. Taft uses these words as an indictment of the democratic party. "The Democrats," he says, "are a party having no solidarity, uniting elements that are as unmixable as oil and water, and when they come to make a government, should they ever be elected to power, the administration would become as nerveless as a man stricken with paralysis, because the radical differences of opinion between the elements necessary to make up the party would be so great as to produce a perfect stagnation in legislative provisions for emergencies which might arise. The democratic party today, as organized, is nothing but organized incapacity. Neither element of the party would have a sense of responsibility strong enough to overcome its antagonism to the principles upheld by the other faction, were it to come into power. The plan which the candidate, in effect, makes is that the introduction of the democratic party into power will be harmless; that its principles in which they differ with the republicans cannot be carried into effect so as to disrupt the country; therefore, they ought to be permitted to enjoy the fruits of office. Even under Mr. Cleveland, whose personality is so much stronger than that of the present candidate, the party was split in twain so that it became as helpless as a sick man."

This is an unanswerable argument. There can be no doubt in the mind of any just man that this describes accurately the condition of the democratic party at this time. There are, of course, many very able men in the democratic party, men of high aims, who could be trusted in executive capacities to discharge the duties of government with patriotism, but this is a government by parties, not by men, and to be able to accomplish anything effectively, the president of the United States must have a united party organization behind him. The republican party contains, indeed, many differences of opinion in regard to public policies. There are, for instance, high protectionists and low tariff men in its ranks. But these differences are not so radical as to prevent that solidarity of action which is essential to effective government. The condition of the democratic party is entirely different. It can be likened to nothing else than the Siamese Twins, two distinct personalities, bound together, but having no real unity, no oneness of aim. The two factions are continually pulling in opposite directions. This renders the party incapable of effective administration of the government, in case it should be restored to power. If Judge Parker should be elected and should attempt to put in force the policies favored by either one of the two wings of his party, he would meet with the instant and bitter hostility of the other wing, and the party would be split in two before his administration was a year old, and he would be absolutely powerless to do anything. So far as any progressive movement is concerned, the country would probably be without any government for four years. If, in order to prevent such a split in the party, he should adopt a "do nothing" policy, simply taking up the government at the point where the republican party laid it down, performing the routine duties of his office, without any attempt at initiative, there would exist no reason why he should have been elected at all except one reason, which is the worst that could be given, the turning out of the republicans in order to provide places for democrats. Mr. Taft is, therefore, absolutely correct in describing the democratic party as one of "organized incapacity."

Eddie Fay could not have expected to have a private valet or meals a la carte on fifty cents a day. If one United States authorities wanted to have him have a private attendant they ought to have been willing to pay for it. As it was he left between daylight and dawn and never left an address where his mail might be forwarded to.

elmer, the governor should tell when he discovered that Kempf was killing his own promissory notes.

Oshkosh Northwestern: A great many people in this world have found through experience how hard it is to be truthful and popular at the same time.

Fond du Lac Reporter: Many people will wonder why John J. Kempf should be so anxious to retain his position as a candidate of a state ticket that is clearly doomed to defeat.

Exchange: A local paper at Glenwood, Minn., reported a new baby in a home where the wife was out of town and she hurried home to scold her husband for his carelessness, but found the editor was to blame.

Rockford Register-Gazette: The democratic plan to make the campaign on the personality of President Roosevelt has resulted only in emphasizing his red-blooded Americanism and his honesty of purpose.

Racine Journal: A bit of humor comes from Italy in the statement American negroes were kicking up a fuss on account of the heavy Italian immigration into the country.

Oshkosh Northwestern: The splurge that the La Follette organ is making about the purification of existing evils at Hurley indicates that with the governor's pushers it is anything to divert public attention from the scandals that have developed in connection with the present state administration.

St. Paul Daily News: The vacant house decays soonest. The watch, or the man, that is kept running regularly last the longest and is of best service while it lasts. The stingy old miser who stops his clock every night so it won't be wearing out while he is asleep gains nothing for his trouble.

Black Creek Times: And now comes one La Follette who deprecates and says, "Whereas, and behold, I have no case and cannot prove otherwise therefore and likewise whereas and behold, the court is prejudiced and bought up as is even everyone who fails to acknowledge that I am right and it even if and also so, I have no case, whereas and behold."

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: With two of the Russian warships disarmed at Shanghai and two more sent to the bottom of the sea while attempting to escape from Port Arthur, the work of the Japanese fleet is gradually being narrowed down to a sort of a holiday proposition.

Chicago Chronicle: It turns out that Thomas W. Lawson of "Frenzied Finance" fame, graduated into the ranks of the millionaires from the editorial rooms of a Boston newspaper. This accounts for a certain buoyancy and freedom of style which aroused the suspicion among those uninformed that a professional writer was producing the magazine articles and Mr. Lawson was merely signing them. As Mr. Lawson was formerly a professional writer himself, the suspicion, of course, disappears. It may be added that if Mr. Lawson is as able a financier as he is a writer he is likely to stir up some other enterprises than "Amalgamated Copper."

Green Bay Gazette: Rev. Shaw, of a Milwaukee Congregational church, has devised a new way to raise funds for church purposes. He has caused to be constructed two large bulletin boards inside the church edifice and on them has sold space to twenty local merchants. The energetic clergyman claims that not only will this bring in needed cash but that it will likewise bring many more adherents to divine service who come out of curiosity, but better that way than not at all. The clergyman who depends on bulletin advertising and other sensations to get an audience had better leave the ministry and go into the fake advertising business for a living. He would be more honest and in all probability more successful.

WISDOM'S WHISPERINGS.
Men have a horror of telling a wife of financial failures.
Women rarely express a fair and honest opinion of men.
Women have an idea all professional men are very learned.
Women show animosity over attention given to other women.
Women fall into the habit of speaking slightly of themselves.
Men take delight in telling how seldom they indulge in a holiday.

ATTENDED BY 7,000,000

DAILY ADMISSIONS AT WORLD'S FAIR AVERAGE 100,000.

Number of People at St. Louis Exposition During First Two Weeks of August Totals More Than Entire Month of May.

St. Louis, Aug. 15.—From all directions the tide of travel now points to the World's Fair, and the constantly increasing number of admissions encourages the Exposition management to believe that the attendance figures will be up to their most hopeful estimate before the gates are closed on December 1.

Sufficient evidence of the growing popularity of the World's Fair is presented in the statement that the attendance for June was more than double that for May, and that the number of admissions in July was nearly a quarter of a million in excess of the figures for the month preceding. On August 2 the number of admissions needed only a few to equal that for the first full week of the Exposition, and the attendance for the first week of

ENTRANCE TO AUSTRIA BUILDING.

August was nearly as great as for the entire month of May.

With 100,000 well pleased visitors going out every day as advance agents for the crowds that are to come, and with the effective denial of unfavorable reports sent broadcast about the weather conditions and hotel accommodations, the World's Fair is now receiving proper attention. The increasing attendance has stimulated the life of the Exposition and the World's Fair has reached its full height of glory and splendor.

The following are official attendance figures from the opening of the Exposition:

AWFUL PEST HAS REACHED CITY

RUSSIAN THISTLES FOUND IN THE CITY LIMITS.

HEY WILL BE EXTERMINATED

Would Spread Rapidly Unless Checked at Once—A Pest in the Western Country.

Russian thistles have made their appearance in Janesville. The pest of the former fertile plains of Russia, the weed that has cost the state of Colorado thousands of dollars to try and exterminate has been found growing along the railroad tracks near the Hansen furniture factory. Captain Moore, who has spent much time in the west and knows the trials of the Colorado farmer to rid himself of this pest, first identified the noxious weed and today took a beautiful specimen to the street commissioner to show him and to explain to him the dangers if it is allowed to spread.

Spreads Rapidly
The Russian thistle spreads rapidly. It will grow on every sort of soil—rocky, cinder pile, streets, stone piles, anywhere that a seed can find a place. It is easy to exterminate the first year, but the second and third years of growing and it becomes a pest. So much so that in the west men are employed who do nothing else but cut it down and burn it. In Russia, its natal country, it has become so much of a pest that some of the best farming lands in the country have been abandoned by the farmers who are unable to cope with its ravages.

Harmless Looking
The specimen which Captain Moore had is a harmless looking weed, it has wide spreading branches and is not ugly by any means. Growing on a pile of cinders or some ash-pile the owner would leave it alone thinking it would make a good hiding spot for the unsightly pile. It grows from one stem and according to Captain Moore, often spreads to be six feet around the outside branches and some two feet high. In the one he had each little seed pod contained three seeds and the total on the bush would amount to ten thousand or more. It had sharp prongs like a needle point which become harder as the bushes mature.

Like Tumble Weed
Like the tumble weed when it ripens and the seeds are ready to germinate, it tears itself from its roots and blows around like a ball, scattering its seeds as it goes. In this way, while the first year's crop might be confined to a few hundred bushes, the second year the property owner would have to compete with thousands of the weeds and the third with millions. If taken in time before it is ripe it can be exterminated.

Brought by Trains
It is thought that perhaps the weed has been brought to Rock county by the trains which travel from the west where the weed is so much of a pest that the Colorado legislature has made an appropriation to drive it out of the state if possible. Mr. Hanson will have a force of men at work near his factory in a day or two destroying all the growing plants immediately about his property and doubtless Street Superintendent Watson will also send a force out to keep it from spreading further.

OLD SETTLERS AT HO-NO-NE-GAH PARK

At noon today the Imperial band after a march through the streets took the interurban car for Ho-None-Gah park where the picnic of the Old Settlers' Home, and Winnebago counties, Illinois, and Rock county, Wisconsin, was in progress. A large representation from Janesville was assured when the early cars began to leave this forenoon. Joel H. Dow acted as master of ceremonies and Hon. R. K. Welsh of Rockford and Hon. A. A. Jackson of Janesville were speakers of the day. Cornelius Buckley of Beloit was also on the program for an interesting paper on Indian lore. Tables were provided for 800 and in spite of the rather chilly day there was a large gathering from all sections of the Rock river valley. Luncheon was enjoyed at noon.

LOCAL JOTTINGS

Off for Oshkosh: Messrs. George Sutherland, P. J. Monat, E. H. Connell, Isaac Connors, J. J. Cunningham of Janesville, and George Turk of La Prairie, delegates from the second assembly district to the state democratic convention, left this noon for Oshkosh.

Sheriff's Birthday: This is Sheriff George Appleby's forty-ninth birthday. He was reminded of the anniversary by the gift of a handsome gold-mounted pipe this morning.

Have an Outing: The St. Aloysius society of St. Patrick's church held their annual outing today at Yost park. A baseball game was one of the features of the afternoon.

Rushing Work: Now that work has begun on the new Court street bridge it is interesting to watch the rapidly with which it is progressing. Like Janesville several small Italian bands have paid Janesville frequent visits this past summer. Several of them are exceptionally good, and the one here at present seems to be composed of good musicians.

Growers Take Notice
Those having cabbage contracted for the P. Hohenadel, Jr., Co., will please bring such cabbage, as is ready for the factory, this week not later than Friday, P. Hohenadel, Jr., Co.

CATCHING CANINES WITH BIG FISH-NET

Unique Methods Said To Be Employed by the New Poundmaster in Emergencies.

The official notice of seven dogs impounded appearing in yesterday's issue of the Gazette was the first evidence of the enforcement of the ordinance and shows that Dog Catcher and Poundmaster William H. Duffell means business. Some phases of his operations are said to be not unlike those of the fishermen. It is reported that in cases of large dogs with ugly tempers he is aided by an assistant in the use of a big net. A dog belonging to Tom Slegel is said to have been captured in this manner on Saturday.

FOUR ELKS' LODGES MEET AT ROCKFORD

Big Reunion at Illinois Park on Friday—Many From Here Going.

Antlered brethren from Janesville, Beloit, and Freeport have been invited to journey to Rockford on Friday next to participate with the Rockford lodge of Elks in a big reunion at Illinois park. An invitation to Janesville lodge No. 254 has been received and many from this city are planning to attend.

Open Evenings
The Gazette office will be open this evening, and also Wednesday evening for the accommodation of those who wish to register votes in the Gazette's world's fair contest. Only two days remain in which to cast votes for the favorite and there should be considerable hustle during the finish.

AN EVANGELIST GARBED IN RAGS

REACHES EVANSVILLE IN A RAM SHACKLE WAGON.

ARMED WITH BIBLE AND GUN

Examined Before Judge Sale Today and Declared Insane—Had Toured Six States.

With a tattered Bible in hand and clad in torn and ragged garments, William J. Wiley stood before Judge Sale this morning and answered questions regarding the new religion, filled with brute divinities and witchcraft, which his disordered brain had conceived. He is a man about forty-five years of age with a heavy head of bushy light hair, a full mustache and light beard, and uncanny grey eyes. Officers at Evansville took him into custody yesterday.

Traveling in Wagon
The man started out from Missouri with a wagon and two horses several months ago. He had traveled through Iowa and Minnesota before reaching Wisconsin. The wagon was one of the strangest looking vehicles that had been seen in these parts for many a day. It seemed to have been built out of a rubbish heap. Bits of tin, scraps of canvas, and pieces of wood of all descriptions and shapes were used in clutched the roof. Two horses were harnessed to the wagon and were afflicted with some terrible disease which covered them with sores. Seated in this equipage with his Bible on one side and his rusty rifle on the other rode the man with a message. All might have gone well had he not decided to flinger in the good town of Evansville for a day or two and acquaint the people with the strange tenets of his faith.

With Explosive Bullets
The Evansville authorities decided that he was unsafe and decided to apprehend him. Their distrust seemed to be confirmed when they discovered that his 44-calibre rifle was loaded with extra long cartridges containing bullets fitted out with percussion caps. "There wouldn't be enough left of a man to address a letter to, after he had been struck by one of these," said Judge Sale this morning. The examination was conducted by Drs. Hunkmaster and Penber and the man was found to be demented. As the asylum at Mendota is not receiving new patients now it will probably be necessary to take Wiley to the county house. In the meantime he is confined in the county jail where he was found this afternoon pouring over the Book of Psalms. He said that he was a Presbyterian at one time but later became a Methodist and inquired whether or not any of the Janesville ministers ever visited the jail.

JANESVILLE HAS AN IDEAL LOCATION

What the Merchants Want To Do Is to Advertise Its Facilities to the Farmers.

"Janesville is becoming quite a trade center for farmers," said a prominent merchant this morning. "The city wants to wake up to the fact that the geographical location means something. In fact, it means money in our pockets if we can properly impress the farmers with its importance. The great thing to do is to impress them with the facts that Janesville is the best place to trade and the city is glad to welcome them to its markets, placing everything at their disposal that will make it accessible to all farmers, no matter how far they come. Why, the past two Saturdays every hitching post along Main and River streets was in demand, the streets being crowded with teams. I saw several posts with two and one post with three teams tied to it. What we need is a market place where all these teams could be tied in a place that would be safe and comfortable. Here, don't quote me in this; I am only stating my own views, and I do not want my name mentioned. I want to see Janesville prosper, because it's money in my pocket, but I am not a promoter."

The above statement can be heard on every side. Janesville merchants are anxious to let the country people know Janesville is a good place to trade; that Janesville has better stores than any other city in the county; is more awake and up-to-date than any city in southern Wisconsin. The majority of the merchants want a public market. That is, a place big enough to supply the needs of the farmers who drive in each Saturday to do their trading. Talk in this direction has been promulgated from time to time, but has always missed connection in some manner.

TOMORROW ENDS THE GAZETTE VOTING FOR TRIP.

INTEREST IS NOW INTENSE

Men Whose Names Are Mentioned, Have Many Friends Who Are Working Hard for Them.

The liveliest voting contest Janesville has seen in many a day will close tomorrow (Wednesday) night at 10 o'clock sharp. When the clock hands mark ten Wednesday evening the last world's fair ballot must be cast. Hard work is being done for several of the candidates, but the prize is worth the effort.

The Gazette's offer of a free trip to the world's fair of a week for some working-man and his wife, with all expenses paid, including railroad, street car, hotel, and incidentals, and on top of that the making up of wages during the time of absence, is certainly one of the best, a luxury, in fact, for the lucky winner. Only a short time is left in which to work for your favorite, and yet up to 10 o'clock Wednesday night many votes can be gathered. If your neighbor does not take Janesville's best paper secure him or her as a subscriber for a year paid in advance, which will entitle you to 3500 votes; for ten months, 1500 votes; for 3 months, 650 votes; for one month 200 votes.

The standing of the various candidates at noon today was as follows: James Angell, F. J. Clifton, S. M. Fisher, H. L. Roberts, Chas. Gibson, Simpson Lawton, Carl Palmer, Wm. Taylor, E. Ray Lloyd, Ed. Spaulding, J. C. Morris, George Nicholson, Frank Drew, John Kibel, Otto Burnett, George Ashley, Eugene Dellisle, Bert Sherwood, H. Pederson, Will Kimball, John Kelly, B. Dunwiddie, Wm. Brennan, Henry Young, John Baker.

DAMAGE AT JAIL IS NOW REPAIRED

Bar Sawed Out Has Been Replaced and Lock Repaired—Relic Hunters Stole Bits.

Visitors who flocked to the county jail last week to view the handiwork of Eddie Fay's accomplices had among their number one or more persons who were dishonest enough to carry away two of the bits and an oil can used by the jail breakers. The loss was discovered when an inventory of the tools was taken Sunday. The portion of the bar that was sawed out was also missing but it was later discovered that it had been taken by the machinist who was engaged to repair the damages. Yesterday he put the bar back in place with two heavy steel caps, which are strongly riveted to the studs and the section that was removed. The neighboring bars have been straightened and a fine piece of work has been done in repairing the lock on the fever-box door. The hole drilled has been filled, and scarcely any trace of jail breakers now remains.

BARBERS ARE PUT THRO THE PACES

Twenty-six Applicants for Licenses Examined Here by State Barbers' Board Today.

At Secretary M. H. Whitaker's place of business on North Main street today an examination of some twenty-six candidates for barbers' licenses was held. The other officers of the examining board, President Axel Douhan of Superior and Treasurer Henry Helne of Reedsburg, arrived this morning to assist in conducting the work. "Patents" received hair-cuts and shaves free and there was a large crowd on hand from the time the doors were opened this morning until evening. Many of the applicants were old-time barbers from other states who desire to "practice" in Wisconsin, but there was a goodly number of one-year apprentices, not a small proportion of which will doubtless be compelled to take the examinations a year hence, as only about sixty or seventy per cent pass, as a usual thing. The grading consists of one hundred possible points. Forty-five of these are to be secured through perfect answers to questions and fifty-five are apportioned to workmanship. The applicant, to pass, must receive not less than 75 of the total points. Ten points are apportioned to cleanliness, ten to handling, five to time, five to general appearance, and five to deportment. The candidates examined today were: E. J. McElroy and D. W. Swift of Benton; H. E. Godfrey, Edmund J. Lohre, and George Lupo of Madison; Lester Hodgson, Geo. D. Richards, and Will Trezoumar of Shullsburg; Wm. Curry of Burlington; Wm. Harrels, George Welch, and John O. Douglas of Janesville; Murtin Meek of Stoughton; Bert P. Young and Thomas Smith of Beloit; Herbert J. Rieker of Leola; Henry Kahls of Milwaukee; Ray L. Johnson of Mazomanie; Jas. Beckman of Richland Center; C. W. Deegan of Walworth; Elmer Shaw of Fontana; W. J. Kelley of Arroyo; W. H. Wagner of Monroe; Fred Paulsen of Red Granite; Chas. Dineen of Clinton; and Stanley Morsum of Daraboo.

A woman always believes all the scandals she hears of her neighbor. The good she hears she sneers at as "posing for effect."

VILAS BOOM IS OF IMPORTANCE

MADISON MAN MAY BE NOMINATED TOMORROW.

FAVORED BY LEADERS HERE

Old Line Democrats May Force His Nomination Upon the State Convention Tomorrow.

Rock county for Vilas for governor. This seemed to be the slogan of the Rock county delegates who left for Oshkosh this noon. Just how it is to be done is not yet known, but the former United States senator can be pretty certain of the Rock county contingent's vote for the governorship if he allows his name to be mentioned before the convention. The Janesville men who left this noon have gone to Oshkosh to be on hand before the convention tomorrow to have a hand in framing up matters.

Vilas Prominent
J. J. Cunningham, one of the Rock county delegates, said this morning: "I think Vilas would be nominated with ease if he would consent to run." George Sutherland, another prominent democrat, said when the talk for Vilas was first announced: "He would be just the man to oppose La Follette. I am in favor of him." Added to this fact that no resolutions planning the county to Peck were passed at the county convention, this county can do as it pleases and it is probable that if Vilas will allow his name to be used he will be nominated.

All Together
If the delegations from the other counties are as much of a unit as is the Rock county delegation the best democrats available, irrespective of former affiliations to the gold or silver standard, will be placed in nomination. It seems to be the general sentiment that the democrats do not mean to swamp their chances by being burdened with a genuine donkey politician.

SNOW BREAKS UP THE SUMMER

Crops, Flowers and Produce Suffer in Northern Minnesota.

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 30.—A fall of snow, the first of the fall, occurred at Virginia early Monday morning. It lasted but a short time after the sun rose, but was sufficient to convince one that summer in the range country is a thing of the past. Crops, flowers and garden produce were damaged in the country immediately surrounding Virginia and heavy frosts are reported from other Western Minnesota range points.

AMATEUR ROBBER IS KILLED

Well-Connected Youth Accosts Railroad Agent and Is Shot.

Newton, Ill., Aug. 30.—Alonzo Adams, station agent and telegraph operator for the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railroad at Hunt City, a village sixteen miles north of Newton, shot and killed Lewis Snyder, a young man aged 20 years. Adams was en route home when he was held up by Snyder with a revolver. Knocking the weapon aside, he drew his own pistol and fired four times at his assailant, one cartridge entering the right breast and causing death in a few minutes. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of justifiable homicide. Snyder's relatives are among the wealthiest citizens of Jasper county. He made an antemortem statement in which he claimed to have been merely attempting to play a practical joke on Adams.

RACES FOR LIFE FROM FLAMES

Road Supervisor Has Thrilling Escape in Montana Forest Fire.

Missoula, Mont., Aug. 30.—One of the fiercest forest fires on record is raging southwest of here in the main range of the Bitter Root mountains. The fire has burned over a radius of many miles in Montana and Idaho, where there is much fallen timber. Byron Casper, a road supervisor, had a race for his life with a forest fire in the canyon of the Bitter Root range. Casper was driving a team and in ten minutes' time the fire swept a distance of over a mile. Many other large fires in Montana are still burning and great quantities of timber and underbrush are being destroyed. This is the driest season in the history of Montana.

Drudgery

And Worry Sap Woman's Nervous Vitality.

There is nothing more nerve wrecking than household duties and the care of children. The drudgery, worry and petty annoyance of the day, and broken rest at night soon exhausts her vitality and she becomes nervous, irritable and restless. If allowed to continue, it ends in Sick, Nervous Headaches, Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles, and those terrible Periodical Bearing-down pains, which come from nervous exhaustion. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is a never-failing remedy for such cases. It builds up and soothes the nerves, and brings the sweet, restful sleep, so much needed.

For other medicine is so pleasant or so curative in every case of female weakness, nervousness or general worn-out condition.

"I had been sick several years with indigestion and nervous prostration, which kept me almost constantly under a physician's care, and while I had been treated by four doctors, I received only temporary relief. I was very weak and helpless, and unable to attend to my household duties. After reading about Dr. Miles' Nervine I concluded to give it a trial. The first few doses brought restful sleep at night, and an appetite for food. Continued the treatment. I rapidly improved, and now I am well and able to do all my work."

HUNTING SEASON HAS BEGUN

Prairie Chickens and Pheasants Reported to Be Abundant.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 30.—The hunting season will open Thursday and it is expected that a large number of Milwaukee hunters will start for the northwest the day previous. Many licenses have already been issued by the county clerk, which indicates the large exodus of hunters on their annual trips. There will be very little duck hunting for a while, however, if the present weather continues, but prairie chickens and pheasants are reported to be numerous.

FINDS TRANSVAAL TREASURE

Son of Boer Commander Discovers Wealth Taken From Pretoria.

Johannesburg, Aug. 30.—Mr. Kemp, a cousin of Gen. Kemp, the Boer commander, has discovered beyond Spekden, in the northern Transvaal, the treasure removed from Pretoria before the entry of Field Marshal Roberts. The value of the treasure is estimated at $1,250,000, of which the government will receive half.

Mob Wounds Negro Slayer.

Macon, Ga., Aug. 30.—J. B. Bishop, a farmer of Wilcox county, was murdered on an Atlantic & Birmingham train by a negro, who escaped. The murderer was located near the village of Rebecca. The house was burned by the mob and the negro, running out, was shot, though not fatally.

Think Drowning Man a Joker.

Hammond, Ind., Aug. 30.—George Schofield was drowned at the new bathing beach at Indiana Harbor. Schofield was seized with cramps, and his cries for help were disregarded by a large crowd of bathers, who thought it was a practical joke.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Tuesday, August 30, 1864.—Couldn't be Done.—It has been found utterly impossible to complete the correction of the enrollment lists of the various towns in the districts up to the present time, and the work will therefore go on until further notice.

Busy.—The Provost Marshal's office is a lively place, the enlisting and the mustering of men forming no inconsiderable portion of the labor. Sixty-nine men were mustered in yesterday, and a large number today. The class of men entering the service is first class.

Railway Project.—The Northwestern railroad company proposes to erect extensive machine shops and engine houses covering over eight acres, at the junction, thirty miles west of Chicago.

WILL HONOR CONFEDERATES

Federal Troops to Assist in Dedication of Bull Run Monument.

Gainesville, Va., Aug. 30.—A monument erected to the Confederate dead of the first battle of Bull Run by the Daughters of Confederacy is to be dedicated today at Groveton. Gen. Bell, in command of the troops at Thoroughfare, will participate in the exercises with the Seventh cavalry. Gov. Montague will make the dedication address. Gen. Bell has planned that the participation of his cavalry in the dedication exercises shall not only be a tribute to the memory of the dead, but the nine-mile march between division camp No. 2 and Groveton of Gen. Corbin's staff made in inspection tours of the maneuver zone on horseback.

ARE INSANE OVER WITCHCRAFT

Man and Wife Follow Heresy and Are Committed to an Asylum.

Sheboygan, Wis., Aug. 30.—Carl Hamann and his wife, Minnie, each about 50 years old, were committed to the Oakshold insane asylum because each believed the other was bewitched. Mr. and Mrs. Hamann both were disciples of a Spiritualist teacher, but went further with their views as to witchcraft. When their cherry crop was ripe they refused to eat them because they believed them bewitched. Later they decided the evil spirits had got into their cattle and nearly starved them.

ONE HUNDRED VICTIMS OF FIRE

City of Binang, in Island of Luzon, Is Completely Destroyed.

Manila, Aug. 30.—The city of Binang, in Laguna province, island of Luzon, has been destroyed by fire. One hundred persons perished in the flames and 5,000 were rendered homeless. The loss is estimated at $200,000.

The New York Tribune explains for the benefit of the British public, that the rebel Admiral Buchanan, captured at Mobile, is not the ex-president of that name.

The First Regiment.—A letter to the Sentinel says that these gallant veterans of this regiment whose terms have expired, will soon be at home.

Gen. A. J. Smith, whose force has been reported by the rebels to be 10,000 strong, is said to be on the way to join General Sherman, at Atlanta.

000. The government is furnishing shelter and food to the people made destitute by the fire. According to the census of 1890, Binang had a population of 7,368.

When an incident like the following occurs right here at home, it is bound to carry weight with our readers. So many strange occurrences go the rounds of the press, are published as facts, people become skeptical. On one subject skepticism is rapidly disappearing. This is due to the actual experience of our citizens, and their public utterances regarding them. The doubter must doubt no more in the face of such evidence as this. The public statement of a reputable citizen living right here at home, one whom you can see every day, leaves no ground for the skeptic to stand on.

Mrs. E. L. Belden of 64 S. River street says: "During two or three years I suffered most of the time with a terrible dragging down pain in my back just over the kidneys. It was very trying when I was at work and if I did any lifting my bladder became affected causing me considerable annoyance. I also had attacks of headache which seemed like congestion in the top and back of my head. When I read about Doan's Kidney Pills I did not have any too much confidence in them but my daughter got a box at the People's Drug Co.'s store and persuaded me to use them. They took right hold and made a wonderful change in my condition. I hardly realized how bad I was until Doan's Kidney Pills brought me relief from the afflictions."

EXPERTS REDUCE THE ESTIMATES ON CROPS

Opinions of Well Informed Men Place Yield of Wheat at 500,000,000 Bushels, Causing Higher Prices.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—Further cutting down of the northwestern crop totals by the experts was mainly responsible for the strong wheat market Monday. Private messages reporting frost at a number of points in Manitoba over night helped to keep prices on the up grade. Much of the new buying was of the professional sort, and looked very much like a re-statement of wheat lines that the bulls had previously sold out. There was, meanwhile, selling that was credited to the Watson party of Minneapolis. The market absorbed it all and closed at practically the highest prices of the day. The start was weak, with selling heavy and fairly influential. It was influenced by the large world's shipments for the week, which were nearly 1,200,000 bushels greater than for the previous week, and had been greatly swelled by large shipments from Russia and Argentina. Although officially quoted temperatures Northwest and in Manitoba were low, there was no frost shown on the map, thus relieving anxiety for a time on that score. Ware-Leland, Kneeland-Clement-Curtis and S. C. Love were heavy sellers of the May and succeeded in carrying the price down a full cent from Saturday's closing price. The publication of the Jones report, indicating a total wheat crop of 501,000,000 bushels, was supplemented by the Snow report a short time later, estimating the total at 500,000,000 bushels. Both were confirmatory of the Ingalls figures, indicating a total of 516,000,000 bushels.

TORTURES A CHILD TO DEATH

Small Boy Hung Head Downward in Cistern Dies From Injury.

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 30.—The death of Charles Ross, aged 5 years, in Peoria Sunday will be investigated by the coroner. It is said that a man named Adolph Stelvo took the little fellow a few days ago and hung him head downward in a cistern, leaving him in that position several minutes. Before doing this he is said to have kicked him in the stomach. The lad was unconscious when taken from the cistern and died several hours later. Stelvo has not yet been found by the authorities and is said to be in hiding.

LOTUS BED COVERS FOUR MILES

Trempealeau, Wis., Claims a Beautiful Scenic Attraction.

Trempealeau, Wis., Aug. 30.—A lotus bed four miles long is one of the scenic attractions of Trempealeau. The flowers are now in full bloom and bear a striking similarity to the water lilies of Japan. The only places where they have been found in the United States are at Trempealeau, Madison, Wis., and Lake City, Minn.

Great Sugar Factory Burns.

Berlin, Aug. 30.—The largest sugar factory in Germany, named Kuhlmann, near Thorn, West Prussia, has been burned, causing a loss of $1,250,000. The fire led to a rise of 3 cents a hundredweight in the sugar market at Hamburg.

The Real Purpose of Grass.

A small city girl whose only playground is a paved court had the "good luck" recently to spend a day with her cousin in the country. Almost her first experience was a hard, full-length tumble out in the fields. As she picked herself up she seemed surprised to miss the bruises. Then she exclaimed delightedly: "Isn't it lucky that the grass was there?"

FLOW UP FARM TO FIND VICTIMS OF MURDERER

Aged Man Is Supposed to Have Slain Many Persons Who Had Aroused His Wrath.

Colchester, Conn., Aug. 30.—The discovery of a second body on Sunday on the farm of Gershon Marx, the 80-year-old farmer of this town, who now is in the Norwich jail, charged with the murder of Joseph Paroll in April last, leads the police here to believe that other victims of the old man's temper are buried near by. The state's attorney will order the entire farm plowed up in a search for more bodies.

For several days Alphonse Grant, an interpreter for the New London court, has been searching for the body of Tom Palm, who he knew disappeared from the farm a year ago last October. At that time Marx told his friends that Palm had been paid off and had gone back to the old country. About a mile from the house Grant came on a spot in the woods where the underbrush seemed less bushy than elsewhere and showed signs of having been disturbed within a year or two.

He began to dig down, and after uncovering the soft earth he struck layers of stones. Removing these, he struck more soft earth, underneath which he found the dismembered body of a man tied up in a sack. A similar one was found around a body found in a cellar on the Marx farm in April last. The head, arms and legs of the victim had been cut off, and there was little left of the man but bones and the head. From the clothes the body was identified by Sheriff Jackson as the missing Palm.

FATHER LEAVES GREAT WEALTH TO DAUGHTER

Mrs. Anna M. Walker Becomes Sole Heiress to Weightman Estate, Figured at $50,000,000.

Philadelphia, Aug. 30.—Mrs. Anna M. Walker of Germantown is made one of the richest women in the world by the terms of the will of her father, William Weightman, which has been offered for probate. Mr. Weightman was the richest man in Pennsylvania, his estate being estimated at $50,000,000. Every penny is given to Mrs. Walker, who is the widow of Congressman Robert J. C. Walker of Williamsport. Mrs. Walker becomes sole proprietor of the extensive chemical works owned by her father, and will assume active management of the business, besides looking after the real estate left her by her father, who was one of the largest holders of real estate in the country. Mrs. Walker has considerable business ability, having managed her father's vast affairs for many years.
